

Using the hotel business example from the previous exercise, design and model using UML some of the classes and interactions between:

- guest
- VIP guest
- reservation
- credit card and bank account as forms of payment

Remember, class diagrams describe static relationships between classes of the system!